The Trial of Mirchpur Carnage

The trial of Mirchpur case in which 18 Dalit houses were burnt in April 2010 has been shifted to the Rohini Sessions Court in December last year from Hisar, following a Supreme Court directive to ensure a fair trial for the victims and their advocates who complained they felt threatened.

As a result of our briefing and constant motivation, Kamla, whose physically challenged daughter and husband were killed, has identified 81 of the 98 accused in the case including the SHO of Narnaud police station, Vinod Kajal on 29th April 2011. This is the first time that so many accused as well as the SHO has been identified as one of the alleged perpetrators of the crime, who, in spite of being present in the village during the incidence, gave the mob about a hour-and-half "to finish their work" till the time police force from Hisar arrived.

Support and Protection to the Advocates

The Advocate in the Mirchpur Carnage trial case, Mr. Rajat Kalsan was receiving constant threats by the Jats, following which he was provided one security person, which was also recently withdrawn. Recently some Jat lawyers attacked his office and also man-handled his father. Later a false FIR was also registered in the local police station against him and 3 other lawyers who supported him during the attack. A meeting was held with them and anticipatory bail application was drafted by us on which they were granted the anticipatory bail by the Hissar Court on 25 April 2011.
