

COVID-19 Relief Distribution to 4000 Households across 05 states by Swadhikar/NCDHR
May-June 2020
Supported by Azim Premji Philanthropic Initiatives

1.BACKGROUND:

With the imposition of nationwide lockdown on the 25 of March in the wake of COVID-19 pandemic, and its indefinite phase wise extension, marginalized communities who mostly engage in daily wage labour and informal sector occupations lost their livelihoods all of a sudden. The lack of capacity to cope with the shocks and stressed of the COVID-19 lockdown had pushed the most marginalized communities living with pre-existing socio-economic vulnerabilities, particularly the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes to hunger and disease in rural areas. Many of them are still not registered under the social security schemes. Therefore, they were not eligible to the state entitlements and stimulus packages of the Central and State Government. Considering the deplorable situation of these communities and requests from their representatives for immediate assistance in the face of extended lockdown, the National Campaign on Dalit Human Rights (NCDHR) a network of Dalit and Adivasi civil society actors, academic and activists moved to provide emergency relief support to 4000 households across 5 states, with lifesaving essential food supplies (ration kits) and hygiene materials (WaSH kits). NCDHR is a campaign under the aegis of SWADHIKAR, registered under the Society’s Act. Families of migrant returnees/workers, unorganized sector workers, women headed HHs, families with the elderly, children, widows, pregnant, orphans, persons with disability were prioritised for relief support.

2.PROCESS FOLLOWED FOR THE EMERGENCY RELIEF MEASURES

2.1. Beneficiary identification

2.2. Process of beneficiary selection

Prior to the relief distribution, with operational presence in the states, details of beneficiaries were gathered beforehand, which included the address, telephone numbers, and so on to make it available in the google sheet for easy access to all who were involved in relief distribution. This ensured transparency and accountability in reaching out to the pre-identified households and enabled sharing of information across all levels of operation, among the team members. Existing rapport with PRI members and CSO/CLOs aided the smooth identification of most needy households based on the criteria developed for the same. The criteria set for beneficiary selection included households belonging/including widows, people with disability, migrant labourers, landless and daily wagers, denotified tribes, sanitation workers, BPL families, jobless families, particularly those belong to SCs & STs.

2.3. Seeking vehicle and movement pass for emergency relief distribution during the critical time

Soon after the collection of details of the 4000 beneficiaries' requests for movement passes were placed with the district administration. Some of them received it immediately, but in some districts like Kandhamal, in Odisha, it took longer to secure movement passes.

2.4. Inviting vendor quotations and process of fund transfer

Simultaneously, quotation from different vendors were gathered and 50% of the committed funds transferred to the vendors. Only after verification with beneficiaries on the quality and quantity relief kits was the remainder 50% of the funds transferred to the vendors.

2.5. Relief kits

The relief kits comprised a 20-day dry ration kit including personal hygiene items and sanitary pads. Ration items were determined based on local food habits across the project states. For the quality and quantity check, there was a constant monitoring by the state coordinators and two volunteers to ensure that kits were securely packed and loaded on to the vehicles.

2.6. Relief distribution verification

Upon completion of the 80% of the relief distribution, randomized verification calls were made to the beneficiaries to check on the status of the receipt of relief kits, and their suggestion on quality and quantity of the relief materials. Based on the round of verification the remaining funds were transferred to the vendors. The states like Odisha and Jharkhand arranged for the transportation of relief good through the vendors, but in Bihar and Andhra Pradesh NCDHR had to arrange for the transportation of goods.

2.7. Packing of relief kits

The state team members were present on the spot during the packaging process to ensure quality and quantity matched the requirement and all items were packed properly. The packaged kits were delivered in a phased manner to avoid the mismanagement.

2.8. Engaging community volunteers

The volunteer support was provided to the state coordinators for emergency relief distribution to assist with local distribution management. The volunteers were also helpful in guiding the community on beneficiary selection criteria and identifying the needy households. Each state coordinator had two volunteers assisting in relief distribution.

2.9. Observing the physical distancing norms

As per the guidelines of the Ministry of Home Affairs, physical distancing was maintained throughout the relief distribution among the community members and the team. Even though the operational district were falling under the green zones, the state teams adhered to the norms. In many places the designated spots were marked out for the people to be positioned at those spots. The relief distribution team carried sanitizers, masks and handwash to frequently sanitize their hands.

2.10. Daily monitoring and reporting

For swift coordination, communication and transparency, WhatsApp group was formed for the relief operation, looping in the members engaged in relief operation. Daily reporting was provided with photos of distribution and media reportage, along with updating of the Google spreadsheet on daily basis.

3. CASE STORIES

3.1. No pension and PDS; the elderly living with disability and sickness, receive relief

Shivaprasad Baraik, a visually challenged man in his 60s, lives with his wife Patarsia Devi who is suffering from severe illness, in a broken house at the far end of Chatakpur village of Mahuadand block in Latehar district in Jharkhand. Aged and unable to see, their children have left them to live on their own. During the relief work, the villagers informed the team that the old couple lived in adversity. They ate only if someone gave them food and other times, they remained hungry. They neither had ration card nor old age pension security. During the lockdown, the couple had intermittent supply of cooked food from a Self-Help Group initiative supported by the Jharkhand State Livelihood Promotion Society. After having provided dry ration relief kit, the NCDHR team is making efforts to link them up with social protection schemes of PDS and old age pension, and the block and district administration have been informed about them through local volunteers engaged in relief distribution.

3.2. This relief meant her family will not face hunger for at least a few days

Smt. Kusumanga Malik, 69, a w/o late Nire Malik, is a resident of Post- Damadua, PS- Adava, Gram Panchayat- Damadua, Mohana Block in Gajapati district of Odisha. Her family consists of her son and daughter in law, and her grandson.

Kusumanga Malik belongs to the Ghaso sub-caste of the Scheduled Caste community in Odisha and are among the few families in their locality. She is the main bread earner of her family. Her son has been out of work in the lockdown and without work, staying at home all day has increased his dependence on country liquor. His wife suffers from paralysis and is bed ridden since years. Kusumanga's grandson, aged 16, is a school dropout working to support her family and get his mother treated. In the lockdown, he too has been home without any work. They live in a mud house roofed with tin sheets, thatch, and logs to have it withstand heavy wind during rainy seasons. Her family is a PDS beneficiary and this is all that their family of four members have to fill their stomachs. After the lockdown, the family faced severe food crisis with no daily labor available in the village. The little they saved was also diminishing with passing days. The family was identified under relief project with the help of PRI members. Kusumanga expressed her gratitude to NCDHR for the relief assistance that would take care of her family for at least 15-20 days till they are able to find alternatives.

3.3. With her husband stranded in Kerala, relief kit came as a huge support to Padmini

Smt. Padmini Nayak, 28, wife of Sri. Kista Nayak (33), has two under-5-year-old children.

Smt. Padmini Nayak lives in Aliganda village with 02 children in a small hut and the house is in poor condition covered in plastic and bamboo around without any protection from natural calamities and other insects and reptiles. Her husband works as a daily labourer in Kerala who got stranded there after the lockdown. He used to send some money back home but at present, he himself was struggling for the food and security in Kerala, shared Padmini. Therefore, besides being concerned for her family's sustenance, she is worried for her husband. She has registered to bring back to home in the name of her husband to get the migrant workers back to Odisha but he has not yet got back home.

Padmini's family is not enrolled in the food security scheme, though she had been visiting the government office to get the PDS and BPL cards issued, she reported. Had her applications been heeded on time her family would have at least been food secure with ex-gratia support extended in as per COVID relief package than face hunger. Therefore, having a square meal itself is a daily tryst for Padmini. Illnesses and diseases continue to make their situation grimmer. Her daughter is facing serious health issues and there is no money to get her treated.

Padmini's family was identified for relief assistance by the community volunteers, which she stated will take care of their food requirements for some days together with essential hygiene items. She was thankful to and happy to receive such support when she had no other support at all.

3.4. At the peak of distress, my prayers got answered

Smt. Peerubandi Satyavathi, w/o Rambabu, resides at 1-1-52, SC Colony, Ganjipeta-Ward 30, Vizianagaram Municipality, Andhra Pradesh.

Satyavathi lives has a 5-member family of three school going children. Her spouse works at a meat shop. After the lockdown, the slaughterhouse was shut down and he lost livelihood. With no savings to sustain, the family faced food scarcity and even went hungry for several days. It was during the peak of distress that the local organisation, DBSU, showed up in her locality and reached out with relief kits to her family. She said it was her prayers that got answered. While uncertain about how they would manage after the provisions got exhausted, she received the assistance with cheer and gratitude.

3.5. A terminally ill mother and lack of work threatened their basic survival

Smt. Bonela Uma Maheswari, wife of late Seetharam, resides at Door no.:1016, SC Colony, Lakkidam village and Gram Panchayat, Gantyada Mandal, Vizianagaram district, Andhra Pradesh.

Bonela Uma Maheswari lost her spouse in 2003, within three years of her marriage. He was a lorry driver and after his death, she was left with the responsibility of raising her two daughters all alone. Thereafter, she moved to live with her parents and daughter. Her daughters are pursuing studies. Bonela's father drives a rickshaw to provide for his family of five, with his wife who is a cancer patient. While we were struggling to pull off each day with the meagre income of her father, the lockdown worsened their situation. With a terminally ill mother, her treatment had to be discontinued to meet the most basic requirements in the family, such as food. As soon as the lockdown eased, Bonela's father switched took up the job of a watchman and Bonela started going for NREGS works. In such a situation, the help from NCDHR-DBSU meant a great support to her family, she said, when the uncertainty over the lockdown and resumption of economic activity loomed large.

3.6. The work at brick kiln was stopped but hunger tightened its grip

Smt. Penki Kalavathi, w/o Dasu, reside at 1-10, SC Colony, Rangarayapuram village and Panchayat, Bobbili Mandal, in Vizianagaram district, of Andhra Pradesh

They are a family of 5 people including her three children. Penki migrated with her entire family to Chennai and there she worked as a domestic help for three years. They returned to their village recently and she and her husband started working at a brick kiln, at Palteru village of Badangi Mandal, Vizianagaram district. The lockdown affected their work and they lost their only means of daily income. They were going through a severe food crisis when Penki's family was spotted by DBSU for relief assistance. She expressed her gratitude to NCDHR-DBSU for the timely assistance when all savings were drying up.

3.7. Many mouths to feed but no income at all relief assistance gave some respite

Smt. Thota Kalavathi, w/o late Yesebu, resides at SC Colony, Kota Sirlam village and Gram panchayat, Ramabhadrapuram Mandal, at the Vizianagaram district, Andhra Pradesh

Kalavathi lost her husband seven years ago. She lives with her four children, grandchildren, and aged father (90). One of her daughters suffered domestic violence and was abandoned by her husband. Since then, she with her two children has been living with Kalavathi. In fact, her other daughter with a 2-year-old child is also living with her. Her younger son has no job. With so many mouths to feed without an income, their lives were jolted at the lockdown. The relief kits gave her some relief and respite from the incessant thoughts about where each meal would come from. She is hopeful that by the time the provisions get over something would work out.

3.8. No remittance, no work, no food, and disability; lifesaving relief reached their family

Gothgaon is located 18 km from the Mahuadand Block Headquarters in Latehar district, in Jharkhand. 50-year-old Jubail Topo, son of Lucas Toppo, is visually challenged and has three children in his house, including two sons and a daughter. The responsibility of feeding the family was on Jubail, which he is unable to fulfil because of his disability. Jubail's daughter works in big cities and gets meagre wages, which she used to send back home. But due to the lockdown, wage work has stopped in the cities and she is unable to send money home. Hence the entire family is struggling with food crisis. Jubail does not get any benefit from the government schemes. Neither does he have a ration card nor is he registered for disability pension. Therefore, relief assistance to his family meant a great support for them, they said Jubail. The NCDHR team has started assist his family with registration under deserving government schemes, post relief.

3.9. Will have assured food for some days without any worry

Laljit Manjhi (80), resident of village Nathanpura, Post-Kadirganj, District Nawada, Bihar

Laljit has two sons and a daughter; his wife died long ago, in 2009. He lives alone in a small room where he keeps all his necessities to eat and drink, and sleeps in the Panchayat building next door. Laljit Manjhi ekes out a living by doing daily wage labour and has his 4-year-old grandson in his care, since her daughter works as a labourer with her husband at a brick kiln in Aligarh.

After the death of his wife, Laljit's son had separated everything, and were left with no source of survival. Since it was impossible to do physical labour intense daily wage work at his age, Laljit heeded the advice of a friend and took to riding a cycle rickshaw. It was three years ago that he was hit by a motorcycle and injured himself, after which he could not ride rickshaw. Since then, he has been solely dependent on Public Distribution System (PDS). In the months where grains are not available, he searches for odd jobs in the village. And when there is no wage work available, he sells some of his grains to buy some vegetables. In the times the lockdown, suddenly everything stopped. Getting food, employment, wages got difficult. Receiving a ration kit from NCDHR made him happy because now he could feed himself and his grandchild at least for a few days comfortably, till livelihood resumed.

3.10. Not only relief assistance but also inclusion in social protection schemes is the need

Covered with forests and mountains and situated on the highest peak of a mountain, Orsapaat village of Mahuadand block, Latehar district in Jharkhand, lies on the border of Chhattisgarh. Bauxite is in abundance here, which companies have eyes on. But the primitive tribe of the Paat, Vrajia and Nagesia, have stopped mining activity by resisting it. Within Pakri Tand Tola of Orsapaat village lives Lalki Nagesia (35) and Rameshwar Nagesia (42), with their two daughters and a son. He is of a very simple nature. The family lives in a broken mud house of one room. In the name of house and other assets, they have nothing more than 3-4 sets of clothes. People said he was mentally ill. During the beneficiary identification field visit, the community directed the team to this family. However, when approached to be informed about their selection for relief assistance initiative, Rameshwar refused to be contacted because in the yesteryears, others had also visited and promised them help. His life runs on some grains received in exchange for dirty-garbage or wood from the forest. When the team contacted them, they were found to living through severe food scarcity.

The ration card which the family had was invalidated due to lack of Aadhaar card. The only source for the family to make their ends meet is to bring wood to people's homes and get some food grains in return. The whole family somehow survives on this. Such circumstances are bound to affect the mental health of a person. The lockdown has deteriorated the condition of this family even further because even the work of transporting woods to people's homes has almost stopped now. They have not only received relief kits from NCDHR but also being facilitated in securing the required documentation to be linked with government schemes.

3.11. The relief was critical for a widow who lives all by herself

Kamala Devi, w/o Late Nagina Paswan, resides at village Aanti, Post - Kadirganj, in Nawada district of Bihar

Kamla Devi, a widow, lives all by herself. Her husband was posted as supervisor in Kolkata's Coconut Company and used to get a salary of 12 thousand rupees 18 years ago, but after his demise Kamla was left alone to fulfil all social obligations. She married off her three daughters with the support from community. At present, Kamla earns a living by collecting cow dung from the fields and selling it to households. As she is 65-year-old now, her frail body is unable to take up daily wage works. Two years from now, NCDHR had helped Kamla to avail a bank loan for goat rearing.

Today, Kamla not only continues to rear goats but also sells around four goat-babies in a year. This way, she earns around 30 to 32 thousand annually, which helps her sustain a living. Kamla has faced hunger many times because of which she sometimes picked cow dung at people's homes and in return received a kilo of rice. When ration packets were being distributed, Kamla eagerly waited for her turn. She got emotionally heavy as she received the ration. She said that she did not have to ask for food when her husband was alive because they earned enough to help others. For now, Kamla's problem of food insecurity has been mitigated with NCDHR Covid-19 Relief Response during the critical time.

3.12. She lived on the community's offerings until she had own food to cook

Rajdanda village is located just 5 kilometers from the Mahuadand Block Headquarters in Latehar District in Jharkhand. 24-year-old Neemi Tirki, daughter of Suru Tirkey, is physically challenged. Nearly 4 years ago, both of her parents had died, Neemi lives alone in her house now. She gets to eat if people in the neighbourhood provide her food, otherwise she struggled with hunger each day. When people from the village informed NCDHR Relief Team about her, the team reached her home and helped her by giving ration kit. Her neighbours informed that she was not enrolled for disability pension. Her mental health is also deteriorating because of these everyday survival struggles. Neemi has not been linked to any government schemes up till now, but now the team is all set to assist her linkage with government schemes.
